

How to become rich

Why some people are rich and others somehow make ends meet? Why some bathe in luxury, while others do not have enough salary to feed themselves and their families. Why someone who works very little, but driving around in expensive cars, and someone has to work up a sweat and get a penny?

To blame not the government, not tyrannical bosses and not the financial crisis, and only the man who has no strength of will, character, but there is a laziness and unwillingness to change his own life. I'm sure many people with small incomes do not agree with this and will say to talk to the wealthy people that stole, others were just lucky with the appearance, voice, some talent, or just with parents. And in most type my essay cases this is true, but there are many examples of people who "made themselves", came from nothing, no financial support from parents, no ties to the ministries and without the presence of beautiful appearance. Many of them have achieved great success and became famous, while others on the contrary do not strive for fame, but quietly and peacefully increase their wealth behind the scenes glory. Based on recommendations and advice from many people about how to get rich, written many books and articles, and some of the rich manage to write on this subject myself. Rules and recommendations for enrichment very much, but this article will only given the most common and useful of them.

According to the opinions of people who have "made a million" get rich or at least become financially secure can everyone. But faster and easier this can be achieved only by the young, and those who have not yet started a family and children. One of the main tenets of enrichment States that in order to achieve a lot, you need to give up a lot. And if an adult can resist the entertainment and the delicious food, then deny it to their children, deprive them of a happy childhood. Therefore, to start "making money" is recommended since they are very young. And here are a few rules of how to do it right that will be useful to all.

The first rule: to invest in education. If a person is young, ambitious and motivated, then he must already think about their future, namely who he sees there. This can be, for example, the financier, the banker, or a successful businessman or lawyer. After taking the plunge into the study, to begin to thoroughly examine this kind of activities, in order to then become a real professional. To earn good money in many professions, the main thing is to become really good specialist and "piece-instance", and then we will be in great demand, and wages that can then be somewhere to invest.

If a man no longer young, and has a job, but feels she does not bring him any pleasure or money, then you need to change, but not immediately "headlong", then not to remain with nothing. According to statistics, many people who consider themselves not happy, and my life is boring and monotonous – are dissatisfied with their place of work, because that is where they spend most of their time. Most importantly and perhaps most difficult for many is to decide on a favorite profession or occupation. Today there are many courses, seminars, workshops, and the Internet is full of various tutorials and guides. Wanted, for example, to become a programmer or accountant, you can enroll in courses, buy books, and register on the discussion forums online and begin to explore a new area of business. By the way, representatives of these two professions earn is not bad, what can do it from the comfort of home.

The second rule: to save enough. If people have already found their profitable business and gets a good salary, and even if it hasn't happened yet, you still need to set a goal and strive to defer from his salary a part, and consider it an inviolable reserve. For this you need to calculate your budget, all your expenses and cross out all the things without which you can do. For example: taxi ride, a delicious and expensive food, or, for example, to waive or at least reduce the trips to the restaurants, cafes and cinemas.

The third rule: to invest their savings. If you were able to save most of their salaries, not to spend a vacation all their "holiday", or sell, for example, your car, and save a significant amount, you should not hurry to spend it, and better to invest it, but only with the mind, in some profitable business. You need to constantly tune your brain to find places for profitable investment. For example, the real estate market is one of the best and most stable. Buying a house or an apartment in a few years it can be not only profitable to sell, but to earn not bad money for that time, renting it out. Many happy property owners in the big cities even manage to not have to work, just handing over his property for rent and living at the same time, somewhere outside the city, in the country or with parents.

The fourth rule: not to seek a fortune in interest rates and foreign exchange rates. To bet on sports, casino or play on exchange rates and securities, can afford already established millionaires, and even then, doing this is not all of them. The excitement and exhilaration of getting easy money, can lead not only to loss of all savings, and debts that have to pay, because of what the dream of becoming rich and successful will seem distant and not attainable.
